RIOT IN CHURCH.

Political Debate Results in Desecration of Religious Edifice.

WILD SCENE OF DISORDER.

Police Clean Out the Church Using Their Clubs Vigorously. Bryan Men the Cause.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—There was a riotous political gathering in St. Anthony's Polish Church in New Jersey last night. Destruction of the church property was threatened and the meeting broke up in disorder and the police were compelled to use their sticks freely.

The church was engaged by the Republicans. Before meeting the priest said to the police Captain that a debate would occur between Republicans and Democrats. Though the priest protested everything would pass smoothly the captain told him there would be trouble and he detailed a section of men to preserve order.

Mayor Wanser was in the midst of a speech when a mob of 200 Bryanites carrying transparencies with radical inscriptions rushed in. They hooted the mayor and told him to get out. "Show me men who conduct themselves in this anarchistic manner," shouted the mayor, "and I'll show you the type of Democrats who are following Bryan."

This aroused the mob and for five minutes it looked as if a riot was inevitable. The mayor declared he would finish if it required the whole city police force to preserve order. He was allowed to proceed amidst hisses and groans. When the next speaker arose he was promptly hooted down and the most daring of the mob pushed toward the altar, flaunting transparencies in his face. The crowd followed yelling "rush him out." The republicans attempted to stem the tide but were unable owing to the inferiority of numbers.

Vile threats were made and the cry was "Wreck the church. Tear it down." The police then proceeded to empty the hall, clubbing vigorously whenever necessary. Benches were wrecked, chairs overturned and a wild scene of disorder prevailed for twenty minutes.

French Ambassador Thinks Turks Should Get Used to Guns.

(Special Dispatch to the Transcript.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 30.—A severe panic has been caused by the gun practice of the French guardship in the sea of Marmora. The Turkish government urged the French embassy to have Guardship practice further away from the city. The French ambassador, M. Cambon, replied he regretted the alarm, but said the people should become accustomed to the sound of firing.

HARRISON'S TOUR.

Ex-President Leaves for a Two-Days' Speaking Trip in Indiana.

(Special Dispatch to the Transcript.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 30.—Ex-President Harrison started on special train of the Pan Handle road at 9 o'clock this morning for a two-days' speaking tour in Indiana. The McKinley and Hobart bicycle club escorted him to the station.

Few personal friends accompanied the ex-president, among them being John Finney of Boston, who will make speeches. A large number of people gathered at the depot to give him an enthusiastic send off.

ANTAGONISTIC CROWDS.

Bryan Meets Men Who Have Preference for Yellow Metal.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]

APPLETON, Wis., Oct. 30.—The towns Bryan visited in the Badger state this morning were liberally bedecked with yellow. Not since the candidate left the Ohio valley has he encountered so many antagonistic crowds. There were a large number of white ribbons among his hearers, but the majority of the people he addressed at this morning's stop did not hesitate to show a decided preference for yellow metal.

JONES CONCEDES ILLINOIS.

But Says the State is not Necessary to His Party's Success.

(Special Dispatch to the Transcript.)

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The Chicago correspondent of the Daily Chronicle cables from that city that during the course of a long frank conversation Chairman Jones of the democratic national committee admitted that indications pointed to Illinois going for McKinley, but declared that the state was not essential to democratic success.

LOCAL NEWS.

Mr. Plunkett's Guest.

Curtis Guild, Jr., of Boston, who will address the Republican rally in this city Saturday night, will be the guest of W. B. Plunkett of Adams over Sunday.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Mrs. E. A. Baker, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Davenport and Mrs. A. F. Davenport returned Thursday afternoon from Brooklyn and Ilion, N. Y.

Henry A. Tower returned Thursday from a business trip to New York. He reports the enthusiasm for McKinley unbounded and the city resplendent with the national colors.

Dever Underwood is seriously ill with diphtheria at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Underwood, on Hall street.

Miss Bessie Morrison of East Main street will leave this evening for Pittsfield, where she will spend a few days as the guest of Miss Mattie Jones.

Mrs. J. Faulkner and daughter, Miss Amie, of East Quincy street, have returned from visiting friends at Stony Point and Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Mrs. Julia M. Dewey left today for Boston to attend a meeting of the officers of the State Teacher's association. Mrs. Dewey is one of the officers.

Mrs. Nelson Morrison of East Main street is visiting friends in Hoosick Falls, N. Y.

Charles Landry of Westfield is the guest of his sister, Miss Louise Landry of River street.

W. H. Moulton returned today to his home in Brookfield after a few day's stay with friends in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Taylor of High street will leave Saturday to spend a few days in Zoar.

—The boys' brigade of the Universalist church will meet tonight for drill at 7.30 o'clock.

SHERMAN.

Miss Alice Goldthwait spent Sunday at home.

Henry Blanchard and boys of Readsboro visited at Daniel Jillson's over Sunday.

The scholars are having a week's vacation before the winter half of the term.

A. P. Goldthwait is drawing wood to the lime kiln for J. H. Noble.

Miss Blanche Goldthwait visited her sister in North Adams the past week.

Patridge snares seem to be more plenty than usual this year. Some one ought to look after this.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The Rate for Call Loans was Lower Today. Dull Stock Market.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—There was a notable lack of excitement in Wall street at the opening of the stock market this morning, considering the extreme stringency of money yesterday and higher London quotations. There were scarcely any stocks offering in the local market, and rumors of financial relief measures soon to be taken by the banks caused a confident sentiment. One loan was reported of $10,000 at 50 per cent.

It is understood in banking circles that a formal agreement has been reached by presidents of several intitutions to pool issues in the event of money reaching what is considered a prohibited figure. It is rumored the banks are prepared to put out some ten millions of dollars. No official action has been taken by the clearing house as a body.

President Tappen of the clearing house loan committee says there is nothing in the present situation to excite alarm. The banks are abundantly able to meet any emergency. Call money starting at 50 went to 66 and at 11.15 dropped to 30.

At 12.10 o'clock the call money bid was 30 and it was offered for 35. It reacted to 6 in one offering by the Central trust.

LOCAL NEWS.

Pleasantly Written.

The Blue Earth City (Minn.) Post of October 15 published one of Xantippe's articles on Buxton, which appeared in this paper, introducing it as follows:

"A lady writer, a former schoolmate of Mrs. Henry Temple, contributes the following interesting letter to the NORTH ADAMS TRANSCRIPT of recent date. The Henry Sanders referred to is none other than our own Hank Sanders, and we can assure his old school mates that he has lost none of his 'love of mischief' with the years that have dealt so kindly with him since 'Bone's Sam Patch' leap. It is a very pleasantly written article."

Concert and Ball.

A concert and ball will be given at Odd Fellows' hall Friday evening, November 13, by D'Alessio's band and Mandolin club. A good concert program will be rendered before the dancing begins and all who attend will be pleasantly entertained. The band has made marked progress during the past few months and the Mandolin club will be sure to please. Tickets for the concert will be 15 cents, and for the ball 25 cents.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS ON PAGE FOUR.

Cutting & Co.'s Reception.

There will be a good deal going on this evening, but it is probable that all of the attractions combined will not prevent Cutting & Co.'s store from being filled with people interested to see the marked improvements that have been made in the last few weeks. Visitors will be given every opportunity to inspect the store and the goods, although no sales will be made. Good music will be heard and all who come will be made to feel perfectly at home.

Dancing Class Reopened.

A good number of young people were present Thursday evening at the social and reopening of Miss Eva Sheldon's dancing class in the St. Jean Baptist hall on Bank street. The music was furnished by Messrs Anable and Chrystal, and was very good, and the dancing floor was exceptionally fine. Miss Sheldon's adult class is held from 7.30 to 9.15, after which the regular dancing socials will be given each week from 9.15 to 11.15 o'clock.

Their Anger is Aroused.

The residents of North Eagle street are finding much fault with the superintendent of the water works because a leakage in the water pipe opposite the entrance to the hospital grounds has been allowed to go without attention for nearly two months. The road is a puddle at all times and the people are growing quite indignant over the neglect.

Choir Concert Tonight.

The concert to be given by the Methodist choir will take place this evening in the parlors of the church, and will undoubtedly be a very entertaining event. The talent in the choir is very good, and the program which Professor Tower has arranged, consisting of old, familiar melodies, will be well rendered. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged.

We guarantee the finest Job Printing in Western Massachusetts.

DR. SPAHR'S ADDRESS.

The Criticism of a Correspondent is Subjected to Criticism.

THE TIME OF DR. SPAHR'S VISIT.

Was Fixed by the Institute and not by Himself. Dr. Bascom also Has a "Household." Consistency Is a Jewel.

EDITOR TRANSCRIPT—Your correspondent who occupied some of your space yesterday in considering what he believed to be a pertinent thing in reference to Dr. Charles B. Spahr's presence in this city Tuesday night to lecture on bimetallism, and who signed himself with the crooked letter far down in the alphabet, seems, with all due respect to him, whoever he may be, to be as twisted in his reasoning and conclusions as the letter which he chose to do service instead of his name. He finds fault because Dr. Spahr was introduced by Rev. W. L. Tenney as "Dr. Spahr of the Outlook." He is particular about the words used in the introduction for he quotes them and perhaps correctly. It is not the purpose of this to criticise him on that, but I cannot testify to the accuracy of the quotation. I heard the introduction, and I doubt if half a dozen who heard it noticed it, which is at least one reason why your correspondent would have appeared better in silence than in print.

But your correspondent is afraid that the connecting of the name of the excellent paper to which he has reference with the name of Dr. Spahr tends to give the doctor's opinions a weight which they would not have had, had that connection not been made. Further, he speaks of Dr. Spahr timing his coming "when we are in the midst of a political campaign the main issue of which is free silver," and thinks no comment need have been made in this connection had Dr. Spahr confined his talk to "international bimetallism," which he did not do, but "insisted that the awakened conscience of the American people demands of us that we adopt free coinage of silver." Your correspondent quotes extensively from the Outlook to show that Dr. Spahr's message is not received in his own household, "when there are men just as thoughful and just as conversant with the subject as he." When he speaks of Dr. Spahr's "household" he means the Outlook, of whose editorial staff the doctor is a member.

With reference to the doctor timing his coming it can be truthfully said, if we don't quibble over the doctor's right to use his own free will, that he did not time his coming to this city, but that the Tuesday Night institute of the Men's Sunday Evening club of the Congregational church timed his coming. It engaged him to come on just the night he did, to speak on the subject he did for the purpose of giving the people of this city the opportunity of hearing a scientific presentation of the side of the money question on which Dr. Spahr is found, just as it timed the coming of Dr. John Bascom of Williams clolleze to present the claims of monometallism, which, for obvious reasons, passed without criticism.

Your correspondent thinks rather strangely when he thinks the name of the Outlook should not have been connected with Dr. Spahr for fear it would give to the personal opinions of the doctor whatever added weight the opinions of the paper have in this community. That reasoning is to the effect that those in this community who know the Outlook do not know it; for those who know it well enough to let its opinions have any weight with them know its position on the money question, and those who do not know it well enough for that do not know it so that its opinions have any influence with them. Besides, that reasoning is to the effect that those who are readers of the Outlook have no knowledge of publications of certainly equal standing, such as the Review of Reviews, in which Dr. Spahr has contended for his cause against such well known economists as Professor Laughlin, head professor of economy in Chicago university.

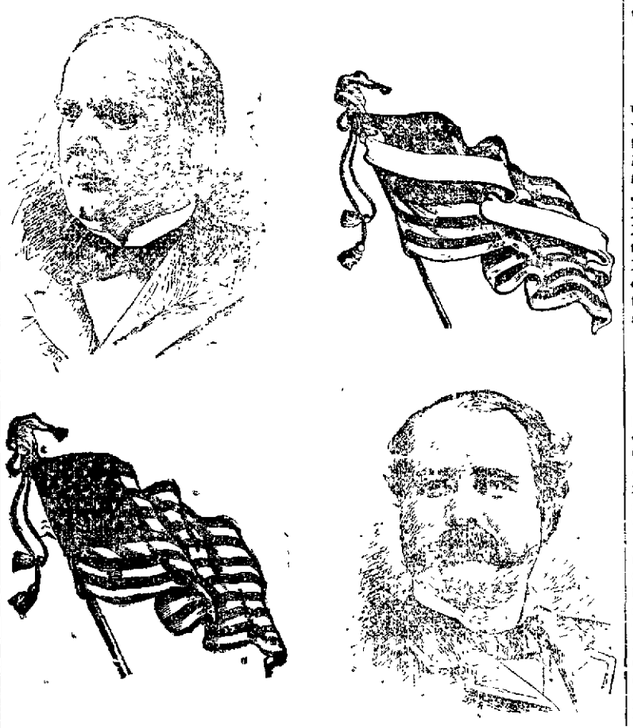

In addition to the pointing out of these absurdities it may be said that there was no impropriety, no unfairness in introducing Dr. Spahr as your correspondent says he was introduced, even were it possible for all of us to know the Outlook's opinions so well that we would place unusual value on them, and yet let them help convince us to a position entirely opposite to that for which they weigh. No one would object to the name of Williams college being connected with Dr. Franklin Carter, though that distinguished gentleman is a candidate for elector on the ticket of a party which stands unqualifiedly for the policy of protection when the insititution of which he is the head teaches far different economic doctrine.

The fact that Dr. Spahr has opinions on important questions which differ from opinions on the same questions expressed in the paper with which he is editorially connected proves nothing against the doctor's opinions. Your correspondent is quite sure that there are other men in the doctor's household just as thoughtful and just as conversant with the subject of finance as he, and if that is so it proves nothing, if we are to be exact about the meaning of the word conversant. Dr. Lyman Abbott is the head of the household and he has said "no one knows the facts in the case better than Dr. Spahr." It is to be expected that if there is anyone in a household who is a directing power in it that the head is that one, and so one would reason that Dr. Abbott is largely responsible for the economic doctrine of his paper. That being so, we have reduced our problem from a paper against a man to something like man against man. Having that done, we must remember that a class of mind excels in mathematics, a class in languages or literary pursuits, a class in theology and a class in political economy. That a man excels as a theologian or as a preacher is no reason why we should regard him as excelling in economics—popular opinion attests strongly to this—so we have no great grounds for holding Dr Abbott, deservedly prominent though he is, superior to Dr. Spahr as an authority on finance, and so there are no reasons for placing much stress upon the fact that Dr. Spahr's opinions are of a kind which his paper "considers too dangerous to be promulgated through its columns and even too dangerous to go unchallenged. It is a common saying that one man's opinion is as good as another's.

Really, Mr. Editor, most of us see things as we want to see them, and when we have no argument to set up against one that has opposed our prejudices we are apt to resort to some method of discrediting the opposing argument, even to the extreme of hypercriticism. If you find any such criticism in the above please believe that it is in the interest of fair play, and that an institution trying to do a commendable educational work may not have its efforts even indirectly condemned.

SATURDAY IS FLAG DAY!

LET OLD GLORY WAVE!

The American flag has been in the political campaign the emblem or insignia of national honor. Its influences have been for great good in the cause of a good people. Its display in many places has been potent in the advancement of the country's battle for the maintenance of its honor at home and abroad.

I therefore suggest that on Saturday, October 31, all who intend to vote on November 3 for the preservation of our national honor, for sound money and the advancement of our people's interests and general prosperity, display the national colors at their homes, their places of business and wherever they may be seen, in order that their purpose and those who are undetermined may the more patriotically and intelligently conclude how best to perform their duty as citizens.

Chairman National Republican Committee.

F. M. T. A. CONCERT AND DANCE.

Well Attended and Furnished Much Enjoyment. An Exhibition Drill.

About 200 people passed a very enjoyable evening at the Columbia opera house Thursday. The occasion was a concert and dance given under the auspices of the Father Mathew society. The concert program was well chosen and furnished much entertainment for the audience. The Harmonic male quartet of Pittsfield took the leading part in the musical program and its selections were well received. The others who contributed were Miss Kate Patterson, Professor Beardsley, William McCarthy and Thomas Murphy.

After the concert the floor was cleared to make ready for the dancers. Previous to the dance the lady cadet company of the Father Mathew society appeared and gave an exhibition drill for twenty minutes, which was much enjoyed. The young ladies went through the marching movements and manual of arms with great credit to themselves and to Captain Cornelius Donovan, the drill master. It is not probable that the company will appear again, owing to objections in certain quarters to lady cadet companies drilling for prizes. Dancing was in order after the company had finished the drill and lasted until long past midnight. Music was furnished by the Ideal orchestra.

SOCIAL AND DANCE.

Will Be Held Under the Auspices of Clan McIntyre Tonight.

The first social and dance to be given under the auspices of the Clan McIntyre will take place in St. Jean Baptiste hall this evening. An entertainment program has been arranged for the affair and the following persons will take part: Mrs. James Wham, Miss Maggie Mitchell of Renfrew, John Laphan, Thomas MacDougall, vocal selections; Miss Jessie Fenton, recitation; John Kehoe and Harry Brown, instrumental music; John Black comic selections. William Dixon will be the accompanist. Dancing will follow after the entertainment.

Pero-Niles--James.

A very pretty church wedding took place Wednesday evening in St. John's church, when Miss Mary James and Charles Pero-Niles were united in marriage. The church was tastefully decorated in hydrangea blossoms and asparagus, and two arches made of the same were placed over the center aisle. William A. Whitaker presided at the organ and played a number of selections from 7.30 o'clock to 8, when the bridal party entered the church and marched to the chancel to the strains of "Lohengrin". The four ushers, E. M. Hoag, Thomas Brainard, Eugene Benjamin and John Heywood led the procession, followed by the two bridesmaids, Miss Christine Anderson of New London, Conn., and Miss Mary Hathaway of this city. The bride was led to the chancel by her half-brother William H. Thatcher of New London, Conn., formerly of this city. At the chancel they were met by the groom, accompanied by his best man, W. H. Moulton of Brookfield. Rev. J. C. Tebbetts performed the ceremony. The bride was handsomely gowned in white silk and carried roses. The bridesmaids were dressed in pink and blue silk and carried pink carnations. A reception to relatives and intimate friends was given immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride's father, William Thatcher, on Veazie street. Mr. and Mrs. Pero-Niles left at 11.46 for the west for a week's wedding trip, and on their return will reside in this city.

"Warming the Fountain."

Staff Captain Cook, who had been with the American Volunteers three nights, went to Holyoke today. The new officers are capable and earnest girls and their hearts are in the work.

Thursday evening the Volunteers had a "warming of the fountain." A man badly under the influence of drink was led to the headquarters on Marshall street and labored with, and his night's lodging at the lodging house was paid for by the Volunteers, who feel greatly encouraged in their work.

Tales of Armenia.

A very interesting talk was given Thursday evening in the Universalist chapel by an Armenian who spoke in behalf of his imprisoned father in Malatia, Asiatic Turkey. A collection was taken and a goodly sum was contributed. After the lecture at the Universalist church, the Armenian went to the Baptist chapel, when he spoke at the close of the regular weekly prayer meeting. A collection was also taken for him there. This money is to be used to aid him in securing his father's release from prison.

District Court.

The following cases were in court this morning:

John Lacross and Cora Cobb, continued case for adultery, again continued until November 4. Lawyer Woodhead appeared for the defendants. Surety was fixed at $50 for Lacross and $5 for Mrs. Cobb.

Charles Noel, drunkenness, fined $5.

Thomas Genova, stubborn child, case continued until Saturday morning.

If you want nice Printing, come to this Office for it.

THE BEACON LIGHT

To be Kindled on Old Greylock's Summit Saturday Evening.

TAR AND OIL WILL BURN.

A Big Parade and Rally. Senator Lawrence to Preside. Curtis Guild, Jr., and Representative Richmond to Speak.

It is probable that Saturday night's rally will be one of the greatest in the history of the city. Preparations are being made on a high scale and if everything goes off according to program the affair will be complete in every way.

A conspicuous feature of the event will be the illumination on the summit of Greylock. Eugene Plankey of Greylock with a number of men will go up the mountain in the morning with a team, taking a quantity of tar, rubber cement, oil barrels, etc., and at 8 o'clock in the evening a bonfire will be started which will be seen in all parts of Berkshire if the air is clear. There will also be a big fire on Mt. Everett, down the county. It is to be a night of general jubilation among the McKinley forces and noise and illuminations will be in order everywhere. L. J. Gardner of Williamstown has heard of the Greylock mountain program and says that he and his neighbors will light an answering fire.

The rally will be held at Odd Fellows' hall. Senator Lawrence will preside and the speakers will be Curtis Guild, Jr., of Boston and Representative C. Q. Richmond. Clapp's band will be in attendance, also the Ward One Glee club. Seats will be reserved for the ladies. Let everybody turn out.

MONROE.

Mrs. Jane Cook of North Adams is stopping with her daughter, Mrs. J. J. Turner.

Mrs. Nathan Ballard and son of Charlemont visited friends in town during last week.

After losing seventy fowls, J. J. Turner has arrested four chicken thieves, and turned them over to Vermont hunters for execution.

Quite a large number of people were present at the ten cent supper given at the church October 23. All enjoyed the entertainment provided.

Leonard Phelps of Lebanon Springs, N. Y., was in town this week visiting his mother, Mrs. Asa Phelps, who is very sick.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Turner visited at North Adams last week, taking supper with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Amidon. They were served with strawberries which had been picked in the garden that day, October 18.

SAVOY CENTER.

LET OLD GLORY WAVE.

Saturday is flag day, and the people of this country, irrespective of party, who stand for sound money and the nation's financial honor, are asked by the national chairman of the Republican party to display the American flag everywhere on that day.

And this is fitting. Not since the integrity of the Union was threatened in 1861 till this time have the American people faced so great a danger as that which now menaces the honor and good name of their country. Never before was the evil of financial heresy and socialistic tendencies so strongly and boldly arrayed against the conservative and safe elements of our social fabric. Never before was the demagogue and social disorganizer so strongly entrenched within the lines of a great political organization. Never in the history of this country was the defeat of any movement so necessary as is the defeat of the Chicago convention's platform and its candidates.

It is a serious and a solemn time for this nation.

And it is entirely appropriate that the flag of the country be patriotically displayed everywhere in this land Saturday as a sign of the people's loyalty to what it has stood for in all the past. It is a time to rally round that flag and reverently raise it in the cause of the nation's honor and honesty. Let it be done with a sense of its significance and to teach all that live beneath its folds that the men who stand for national integrity hold the emblem of their country as the most fitting emblem of their cause. Indeed, the flag belongs to Mr. Bryan as much as to Mr. McKinley, and both may love it equally well, and we would not encourage any feeling that would make the flag seem less the common flag of all, however much they differ in political opinion, but there are times to take the flag and unfurl its folds and remember for what it stands and has stood.

And such a time is Saturday. Then let the people of this Berkshire community on that day make flag day a success as a day of patriotic display. Hang out the stars and stripes from your homes and business places and wear it about with you. Remember what it means and consider the serious business that is before this nation next Tuesday.

A letter to the TRANSCRIPT asks: "Can't you say one thing good about the opposing representative candidates?" Well, we are not in the habit of giving much space to the praise of candidates opposing Republican nominees during an election season. But we can commend some things in each of the three candidates opposing Messrs. Richmond and Magenis For instance: Mr. Whipple is a sound and loyal believer in protection; Mr. Crowley is an admirable temperance worker; Mr. Cady is an excellent citizen But—they are not Republicans with Republican principles.

The now famous Chicago Record postal card vote is closed. The states of Kentucky, Minnesota, South Dakota North Dakota, Kansas, Wisconsin Michigan, Nebraska, Indiana, Iowa Missouri and Illinois cast 155,000 votes of which McKinley had 105,000, Bryan 46,000, Palmer 2000 and Levering 1500. In the city of Chicago McKinley had 67,725 to Bryan's 14,179.

Work every hour from now till Tuesday evening to make the Republican victory overwhelming. See your doubtful neighbors and tell them the story of Williams' disgusting antics and Bryan's attacks on the best interests of the country. Put in a word for the local Republican candidates. Help swell the Republican vote.

In 1895 4,875,519 persons had deposits of $1,944,357,798 in savings banks, all as good as gold. The substitution of the silver dollar would transfer nearly half of this from the depositers to the men who have borrowed the funds of savings banks and would repay silver dollars.

Senator Lawrence added to his laurels at the great Republican rally in Music Hall, Boston, Wednesday evening. The senator's popularity is no longer bounded by Western Massachusetts. He is known and liked everywhere in the old commonwealth.

Those will be two magnificent Republican armies that are to march down Broadway in New York and along Dearborn street in Chicago Saturday afternoon. Such a campaign as this is never seen more than once by any generation.

The North Adams Republican Marching clubs made up most of the street parade at Pittsfield Wednesday night. They made an excellent showing and Pittsfield had to recognize once more that her Northern Berkshire sister is wide awake always.

The Republicans of North Adams nominated two men for representatives. Now let the Republicans stand by them, or let the idea of party loyalty, as a political duty, go by the board for all time.

Who is going to be elected representatives in North Adams and Clarksburg? It is a close three-cornered contest, and no one knows who will be elected. The Republican candidates ought to win.

A vote for Mr. Richmond for representative is a vote for an experienced man in legislative affairs. He will probably be the only old member of the legislature in the Berkshire delegation.

Political weather indications—hurricane weather for Bryan and cyclonic disturbances for George Fred Williams.

See that the stars and stripes wave over your home for McKinley and sound money.

Halloween in North Adams will be overshadowed by the big Republican rally.

A vote for Mr. Magenis is a vote to help a young man along.

"The New Democracy"—oh, where is it?

We shall be glad when it is all over.

There is no Bryan money in sight.

Only four days more.

Hang out old glory.

TRANSITION.

Out of a heart of sorrow
Leapt a wail of woe,
Begging what love may borrow,
Willing long to owe
Hope for the day whose light so glorious
Makes mortal joy o'er woe victorious.

Shamed in the stir and hurry
Cities bear so well,
Cowed 'neath the sin and worry
It would fain dispel,
The heart of sorrow mourned its bitter state,
While under dreary shadows it must wait.

The night was long with weeping
Through those hours slow,—
Vigil that heart was keeping
O'er its wakeful woe:
The stars arose to zenith, then in flight
Sank 'neath the radiant shroud of morning's light.

Morn in the East! and slowly
Solace for its blight
Came to that heart made holy
By a heavenly light.
The golden dawn illumed the restive throes,
While demons of despair again turned foes.

Gold in the East! and slumber
Came with peace, and taught:
Thy days be without number;
Let thy prayers be fraught
With hope thy heart be never overcast,
But live each day as if it were thy last.

'Twixt night and morning cleareth
The shadow of despair;
Loathingly disappeareth
When the dawning fair
Doth tint the glistening of the crystal dew
With starry radiance and with azure hue.

Workmen's Benefit.

A meeting of the Workmen's Benefit Association, Lodge No. 2, was held Thursday evening in the Odd Fellows' lodge rooms and about fifty members were present. Dr. J. Vernon Mott, supreme secretary, and James H. Cutten, chairman of the committee, both of Boston were present and addressed the meeting. After the addresses the Harmonic male quartet of Pittsfield rendered a number of selections, and a smoke talk followed. It was voted to hold the next meeting, which will occur in April, at Florence.

POLITICAL FACTS.

Deeds are facts and are forever and ever. * * * In silver countries, labor is cheap and kept cheap by the silver dollar. For my part I do not want that kind of prosperity. I want a prosperity, which, by good wages to all, is shared by all. We want a broader life broadening every day for all our people.—THOMAS B. REED

THE FREE SILVER FRANKENSTEIN.

The Frankenstein monster was planned and constructed by some of the most learned and skillful men of Europe. After being fitted out with every organ, muscle, joint, etc., the artificially made man suddenly became active. Its creations were highly pleased until the brute became unmanageable. It destroyed property and killed men, women and children before it was finally captured and smashed to pieces. Its makers had neglected to supply it with a conscience.

Free coinage at 16 to 1 is the silver Frankenstein created by well meaning bimetallists like General Francis A. Walker and Doctor E. Benj. Andrews, who have been preaching about the evils of a single, appreciating standard of value. These bimetallists have lost control of their Frankenstein, and Mr. Walker and others are protesting that they meant only "international" bimetallism, and that they do not favor the foolhardy attempt of this country to establish free coinage "without the aid or consent of any other nation." The free silver monster has, however, get beyond their control. It has already terrorized capital, closed our mills and produced much poverty and misery. It threatens not only to paralyze all of our industries, but to force men to repudiate one-half of their honest debts. It is also without a conscience. If not destroyed on Nov. 3 it will turn upon the silverites themselves and crush and kill them.

NEVADA'S TWO EX-GOLDBUGS.

Senator Jones Every Inch a Gold Man In 1874.

Nevada's two senators are now as hot for silver as any two men in the United States. No one would suppose from the way that Senators Jones and Stewart now denounce "goldbugs," "Shylocks," "Wall street sharks," "crime of '73," etc., that both of these gentlemen not only voted for the "crime of '73" in the senate in 1873, but that both were then the two most pronounced goldbugs in this country. Millions of copies of pamphlets and cards containing quotations from the speeches of Senator Stewart in 1874 are in circulation, and nearly every sound money newspaper has printed extracts from these speeches. Senator Jones was also one of the conspirators who decapitated silver in 1873. He had not repented in 1874, as is evident from his eulogy of gold in the senate in April, 1874. He then said in part:

Gold is the articulation of commerce. It is the most potent agent of civilization. It is gold that has lifted the nations from barbarism. It has done more to organize society, to promote industry and insure its rewards, to inspire progress, to encourage science and the arts, than gunpowder, steam and electricity. The use of gold had its origin in the necessities of mankind. The human heart is set upon it. It will command the proper services of everybody at all times and in all places. The necessities which compel its use are as inexorable today as they were at the beginning, although improved systems of exchange have diminished the proportionate volume necessary to do the work.

So exact a measure is it to human effort that when it is exclusively used as money it teaches the very habit of honesty. It neither deals in nor tolerates false pretenses. It cannot lie. It keeps its promises to rich and poor alike. While it has seen human institutions perish and human governments crumble and decay, it is itself imperishable. The gold that was in Solomon's temple possessed the same qualities as the gold dug today from the sands of Africa. The gold of California and the gold of Australia are precisely the same. It defies the corroding hand of time and the friction of ages. It is the common denominator of values. It makes possible the classification of labor and the equitable interchange of commodities. Gold has intervened in the bargains made between men since the dawn of civilization, and it has never failed to faithfully fulfill its part as the universal agent and servant of mankind.

The Problem For Workingmen.

The silverites promise that the workingman will get higher wages; but they also tell us that all commodities of life will rise in price. Do they guarantee us that wages will rise in the same proportion? The chances are they will not, because employers never, or very seldom, raise the wages of their employees voluntarily. But, admitted that wages will rise in proportion to other articles, what will the workingman gain by it? One thing is certain, that if, under a silver standard, the workingman will have his wages raised in the same measure in which prices of other articles and commodities of life will be raised, he will have it after a very hard and desperate struggle. Is it worth while to undertake a struggle for years in order to gain the same which he has now and run a risk of getting less?—Daily Jewish Courier.

Conundrum.

The report of the director of the mint for the year 1894 shows, at page 17, that from 1878 to 1894 the United States paid for 489,946,701 fine ounces of silver $464,210,263. The present price of silver per ounce fine is 65 cents, and the value of that bought is $298,965,356. The loss on the transaction, therefore, amounts at present to $165,244,907. Who got the money paid for the silver? What have they done with it? Has any of it been invested or loaned in the south or west? If so, where?"

Their Favorite Word.

Bryan—Certainly, I said once that I was not a Democrat, but—

Altgeld—Oh, yes, there is a gold clause in those leases, but—

Sewall—It is true I insist on gold in my contracts, but—

Teller—Yes, I do own a silver mine somewhere in Colorado, but—

Sibley—Of course, I own a silver mine too. I have never denied it, but—

The Wage Earners Gamble.

Wage earners should not gamble with their wages. Certainly they should not do so when the dice are loaded against them, and it is a case of "heads I win and tails you lose." He can win nothing, but may lose much, if he gambles with the silver mine owner and takes tips from the free silver politicians.

No silverite claims that free coinage would raise actual wages. The most they say is that the wage earner would not lose much in the purchasing power of his wages and that he would be likely to have steadier work when the "more money" period is reached. Perhaps. But what should most concern those who exchange labor for dollars is that their dollars should not shrink in value. Looking at the question in the light of history and of reason, it appears practically certain that the 16 to 1 free coinage dollar would purchase only about half as much as the present dollar.

The Mexican dollar is a free coinage legal tender dollar which contains more silver than would ours, yet it purchases only half as much as a gold dollar. This is true of all other free silver countries. Everywhere the value of the coin is measured by the value of the bullion in it.

If the price of silver should rise to $1.29 an ounce in gold, the wage earner would neither lose nor gain by free coinage. If, as is certain, the price does not rise but little or not at all, then the wage earner has lost half of his wages until he can by threats and strikes induce his employer to raise wages. His own and his family's food, shelter and clothing are at stake. He gambles with them when there is nothing to be won, but probable poverty and starvation if he loses. Will he enter into such an unfair game?

The Hard Lesson In Kansas.

There have been more foreclosures of mortgages in Kansas than in any other state, and Populism is responsible for it. It is more difficult now to get money or credit here for any legitimate business than it is elsewhere, and Populism is responsible for that. Extensions of loans are made for short time and at higher rates of interest, and Populism is responsible again. But the net effect is wholesome. The people are getting down to the rock. They are replacing speculation and expectation with frugality and industry. While they have been paying up and reducing the amount of money which goes out of the state every year in payments of interest, they have growled a good deal. The new order of things came hard, but it was harder at first than it is now. They are learning the lesson through and through. Instead of lying awake nights thinking how they shall reform the universe, overturn natural laws and revolutionize human nature by act of congress, they are reforming themselves and feeling rather proud of it. In this way Populism contained a disguised blessing; adversity had in it a little sweet.—Cor. Chicago Times-Herald.

Simple Facts.

Wages are higher now than at any time before 1873.

Every workingman knows this fact or can easily find it out.

Each dollar of wages will now buy much more than any dollar did before 1873.

Every workingman knows this fact or can easily find it out.

Every workingman is better off today than at any time before 1873.

Every workingman knows this fact or can easily find it out.

Why, then, should any workingman vote for a return to "the conditions prior to 1873?"

If the government can create value simply by stamping a bit of metal, it ought to have made us all independently wealthy long ago by stamping the entire visible supply of sheet iron into dollars.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

—Mr. Metzke is engaged to play for a fashionable wedding in Hinsdale, November 25.

—A son was born this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tatro of 41 East Brooklyn street.

—The specimen ballots were posted this morning, one in the city hall and one in the post office.

—A. A., infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] of 28 Brooklyn street, died this morning.

—The board of trade will keep "open house" election night and have the returns sent to the rooms as fast as received.

—Mr. Foster E. Swift will entertain a party at whist at the Wilson this evening in honor of her niece, Miss Pearl Noble of Riverside, Cal.

—The annual meeting of the hospital medical and surgical staff will be held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Dr. M. M. Brown's office. Officers will be elected and the hospital assignments agreed upon for the ensuing year.

—"The Limited Mail" will be presented at the Columbia this evening by Elmer E. Vance's strong company. It is a stirring play and one that keeps the interest of the audience at a high pitch from opening to close. The house should be well filled.

—The members of the committee in charge of the fund for the Y. M. C. A., gymnasium met Thursday evening and decided to each take a book and solicit subscription. The young men of the city will be called upon for support in the project.

—Messrs. Church and Potter, who have been interested in the creamery business during the summer at 41 Holden street, are now arranging to open a first-class restaurant at the same stand. They hope to be started in their new business by Saturday.

—There will be a stereopticon exhibition at Odd Fellows' hall Tuesday night and the election returns will be thrown upon the canvas as they are received. Several hundred fine views will be given in the course of the evening and the hall will be a pleasant place to spend the evening and get the news.

—Hinsdale is soon to celebrate the wedding of Miss Sallie A. Taylor, daughter of W. A. Taylor of the firm of Weston & Co., to Mr. Roach of Worcester. The wealth of the bride's father and high social position of the coming bride assures the most elaborate affair the little town of Hinsdale has ever witnessed.

—The tickets for the Boston Quintet club are selling well. This ought to be the case for an organization of such high repute. The Washington National Republican says: "The program was of an unusual degree of excellence, while the work of the club, either as individuals or collectively, was almost beyond criticism."

—Dr. Anne Blossom, Dr. O. J. Brown, Dr. Homer Bushnell of this city and Dr. Woodbridge of Williamstown attended the meeting of the Berkshire Medical society held Thursday in Pittsfield. The meeting was in session from 2.30 to 5 o'clock and the subject was "Tuberculosis." Some very fine addresses were given.

—Elbert L. Couch of Northampton, the baritone who sang so acceptably in the Congregational church some six weeks ago, will be heard in the same church again next Sunday. Mr. Couch has a cultivated voice of excellent quality and wide range and added to this is an enunciation so clear that every word can be understood. He will sing both morning and evening.

—The quarterly meeting of the Greylock union of the Christian Endeavor society will be held in the Congregational church in Williamstown tonight. This union comprises the societies from this city, Adams, Braytonville, White Oaks, Sweet's Corners, South Williamstown and Williamstown. The banner will be presented to the society having the largest number present. A number from the local society will attend.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Happenings of Interest in Our Neighbor Towns.

AT ADAMS TODAY.

SATURDAY EVENING'S RALLY.

To Be the Biggest Demonstration Made in Adams for Several Years.

The executive committee of the McKinley and Hobart club have completed arrangements for Saturday evening's big sound money demonstration as follows: Both Lafayette and Germania bands will furnish music and Major R. A. Whipple will be in command. The parade will form in front of Republican headquarters on Center street at 7.30 o'clock rain or shine, and will cover the following line of march: From Commercial square to Maple grove, countermarch to Liberty street, to Center, to Crandall, countermarch to Summer, through Spring to Pleasant, thence through Columbia to Renfrew station, countermarch through Columbia and Park streets, countermarch to School street, through Pleasant and Myrtle to headquarters.

Every supporter of sound money is invited to join the parade. People living along the line of march are especially requested to decorate and illuminate their houses. At 8.30 o'clock all the bon-fires will be started.

Events of the Evening.

The local socialists will be addressed on the issues of the present campaign at the opera house at 7.30 o'clock by Lucien Saniel, the New York socialist. Mr. Saniel is a leader in the socialist labor party and has spoken to interested audiences in this town before. No doubt his speech will be heard by many.

Adams baseball nine will hold another of its series of socials at St. Jean Baptist hall. Palmer's orchestra will provide music.

E. J. Nobles will entertain the Adams whist club at his home on Commercial street.

Real Estate Transfers.

D. B. Cook has sold another portion of his land north of the tube works at Zylonite to the Adams Power Company.

Elisha Burlingame has bought a piece of real estate in Savoy from Scott Jenks for $100. Mrs. Ellen T. Burlingame has paid the same amount for Savoy property bought of Wesley T. Simmons.

John Richmond has sold to Paul Brumm, building lot on North Summer street, for $300.

Clara A. Walling has sold a parcel of land to Alfred A. Combs.

A Stenographer's Association.

There is a movement on foot for the organization of a stenographer's association in this town. It is to be known as the Adams Stenographer's association. The outlook is very bright, as there are a number of good stenographers in this place, and also many more who are now taking up the study, and will eventually be members. It will be located in the rooms of Keller's school of shorthand and typewriting in Richmond's block.

C. H. Tinney Injured.

Today Probation Officer Charles H. Tinney was at court for the first time this week, and he hobbled in with a cane. Monday Mr. Tinney was working on his farm when a heavy log rolled upon his foot and crushed it very badly.

The ball game proposed for Saturday afternoon and the dance under the team's auspices in the evening have been abandoned.

Judge Harrington was on the bench in the district court this morning and he fined Thomas Readon and Henry Webber each $5 each drunkenness.

A Harvest Home concert will be given at the Baptist church Sunday evening.

W. C. Plunkett camp, Sons of Veterans, will be inspected November 23.

Miss Frances Buggay has returned from Great Barrington, where she was a guest of Mrs. Thomas J. Kearns.

Dr. William Tucker of Hinsdale returned from Europe and was in town Wednesday. He has returned to his practice in Hinsdale.

The promoters of the league of the Sacred Heart met at St. Charles church Thursday evening.

Miss Mary McCroary will sail from New York Saturday for Londonderry, Ireland.

Work on the East Renfrew school building will be delayed by the Pittsfield fire, as finishing material which was ordered of the Pittsfield firm was burned.

CHESHIRE.

Baseball Game.

The members of the Cheshire Athletic association have abandoned the idea of having a football game this week, although a game was set for Saturday afternoon. Now they have decided to substitute in its place a baseball game, which will be played on the grounds owned by Richard Dunn at 2.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The teams are made up as follows:

H. A. Northup, captain; L. Wellspeak, c; F. Reynolds, p; H. A. Northup, 1b; W. Cheeseboro, 2b; Dr Kingsley, 3b; E. Blush, ss; Stowell Cummings, of; P. J. McDonald, rf; George Reynolds, lf.

W. B. Dean, captain; John Gorman, p; James Reynolds, c; D. L. Wood, 1b; W. Flaherty, 2b; W. B. Dean, 3b; H. W. Dean, ss; W. E. Northup, cf; M. Reagan, rf; Gano Foster, lf.

Mrs. Clara Watters has vacated her home on Depot street and will reside with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Stowell. Dr. C. D. Kingsley has rented the house of Mrs. Watters and will move his family from Hoosick Falls, N. Y., to this town.

Mrs. Luther Martin has returned from Kingston, where she has been visiting for several weeks.

Miss Agnes Winters of Lenox is the guest of Flossie Mallory.

A prayer meeting will be held at the home of Thomas Cropper Friday evening.

Mrs. Ellen Church of North Adams is the guest of Mrs. Esther Rider.

C. A. Dawley is quite ill with the grip.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

College Notes.

The Chemical society has elected these officers: President, Frank M. Williams, '97; vice president, Toombs, '97; secretary and treasurer, Wood, '98; executive committee, F. M. Williams, '97, Riggins, '97, and Waterman, '98.

Judge Keyes Danforth, '46, will deliver an address sometime this term on "Personal Reminiscences of the College."

Dr. Gordon, pastor of the Old South church at Boston, has been invited to conduct a series of meetings from November 8 to 15 at the chapel.

Professor Rice will deliver the first lecture before the Art association this evening on "The Vision of the Artist."

Pach has been chosen class photographer.

The first edition of the "Lit" came out this week.

Fred B. Whitney of Williams has been elected president of the New England Intercollegiate Baseball association.

It is expected that later in the term Rev. Mr. Tenney of North Adams will speak before the students on "The Need of Missionary Work in North Adams."

Wednesday Evening's Rallies.

The free silver rally at the opera house Wednesday evening was attended by a large audience, and among it were many Republicans. Postmaster Bushnell Danforth presided. He first introduced Charles West of Pittsfield, the senatorial candidate who made a brief address. Then Dr. Spahr, associate editor of the Outlook, who spoke in North Adams the night before, delivered substantially the same address that he gave in that city.

The college Sound Money Democratic club's ralley in Goodrich hall was presided over by Bacon '93, of Toledo. O. The young man is a nephew of President Grover Cleveland. On the platform with him and Henry W. Lamb of Boston, who spoke on the monetary issue, were Professors Rice, Russell, Peck and Morton, Burns, '97, Gordon, '97, and Perry, '98. The address was heard with interest.

The Republican Rally.

An enthusiastic rally was held in Goodrich hall Thursday evening by the Williams college Republican club. Vice-president Rust presided and interesting addresses were delivered by President Franklin Carter and Prof. John H. Hewitt. Dr. Carter's remarks were chiefly confined to young men as related to the issues of the present campaign.

About fifty new names have been added to the voters' list.

The Adelphic Debating union met in the biological laboratory Wednesday evening and listened to and address by Dr. John Bascom.

E. P. Hopkins Grand Army post and Williams lodge of Masons have adopted resolutions on the death of the late Dr. A. M. Smith.

Thomas Crane of Dalton, the Democratic candidate for representative was in town Thursday.

The Cosmopolitan club will receive election returns in its hall on Spring street.

A private dance was held in Grand Army hall Wednesday evening.

Harry Fitzgerald, who was injured by being thrown from his wagon is no better Dr. Goldthwait is attending him. The horse will probably have to be shot.

Miss Lena Buckley of Troy is a guest of Thomas McMahon.

Miss Ruth Blackinton of Blackinton visited Mrs. J. T. Wells Thursday.

The trustees of Williams college held their fall meeting at President Carter's home Wednesday. The business was largely routine and was quickly disposed of. An acre of land on Southworth avenue was formally transferred to St. Patrick's Catholic parish and the other Catholic parsonage on Hoxey avenue was rented to Prof. James I. Peck for the ensuing year. The trustees then approved the recommendations of the finance committee and adjourned.

An illustrated lecture will be given at the opera house Saturday evening for the benefit of the sufferers in Cuba. Battlefield scenes and many others will be given, about 150 in all. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon a matinee will be given for the children. The price in the evening will be 15 and 25 cents; matinee, half price.

Channing Lilley, who spent the summer at the Ward cottage, has returned to Boston.

Arthur, the little son of Professor Dale, was bitten by a dog with which he was playing Wednesday, but his injuries are not serious.

These real estate deals have been recorded: Albert L. Daniels to G. D. Lemanche, $511; Marence Sweet to Samuel L. White, $1,500.

The local Grand Army post will hold a Holloween social at its hall this evening.

The roof is being put on the new Catholic church by Contractor Bishop.

BLACKINTON.

Flag day will be very generally observed in this village Saturday.

Rev. J. J. Fallon is expected to be present at the county convention to be held in Father Mathew hall tonight.

The funeral of Thomas Rickards will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the house and 2 30 at the church.

POWNAL.

Mrs. Henry L. Barron and Miss Florne Rathban have gone to New York to learn dressmaking.

Remember the lecture at the Methodist church this evening for the benefit of the Cubans. It will be superbly illustrated with the stereopticon.

The new Baptist pastor, Rev. B. F. Kellogg, arrived today. Services will begin at 10.45 next Sunday as usual.

Mrs. J. A. Moran leaves soon for her new home in Paterson, N. J. Her many friends will miss her very much. Miss Inez Coombs accompanies her.

The band has recently received several new additions to its membership.

Flag day Saturday will be suitably observed by a number of our citizens. The boys are preparing a great demonstration in view of the election of McKinley.

Election returns will be received at Wright's mill, through the generosity of the New England Telephone company.

S. Wright is in New York on business.

Dr. E. E. Potter has introduced a bill in the legislature providing for a flagman at the North Pownal crossing.

HARTWELLVILLE.

There will be a donation and supper at the church on Thursday evening, November 5, for the benefit of Rev. C. E. Cahee. An invitation is extended to all to come.

M. O. Hicks, wife and children visited at Hon. Silas Mason's last Saturday and Sunday.

There were six deaths in the north part of Stamford in six weeks all within about 1½ miles of each other.

We have been having revival meetings in the church for the past three weeks almost every evening, and expect to continue them for the rest of this week.

Myron Bickford of Whitingham has opened a singing school in this place and start with fifteen pupils. He also gives music lessons.

Rev. Mr. Alger and E. J. Bullock and J. M. Canedy attended our meeting last Friday evening.

Ben Canedy and Edward Leroy have taken the contract to cut 300 cords of pulp wood for L. E. Reed.

Mr. Robertson of Greenfield, Mass., visited his nephew L. E. Reed last Sunday.

S. Mason and wife have gone to New York this week.

J. M. Canedy sent two men from North Adams Wednesday of this week to repair his tenements in this place.

BENNINGTON.

The Catamount Tavern Monument is completed and the grounds are now being graded. This is a fine piece of artistic work and is an ornament to the town and state. We would say to one and all, come to Bennington and see the commemoration of the old Catamount Tavern in bronze, and granite which will be an additional guide post to history for the oncoming millions. Charles F. Sears has a force of men from Hoosick Falls at work moving the old homestead a distance of about ten rods upon a piece of ground recently purchased from Mrs. Daniel Robinson. This location and site should be seen to be appreciated.

It is a source of regret to learn of the burning of the old St. Coix grist mill near North Hoosick on Saturday last. This was an important building during the Bennington battle and it contained many barrels of flour, etc., and was captured by the British on their march to meet the enemy, but the British gave up their possession after Baum fell upon the battle field of Bennington.

In one week the voice of the greatest nation on earth will be heard and the destiny of America is now hanging in the ballance. Can it be possible that a man so unfit for the office of ruler of this great republic, a man advocating the principles of, we make bold to say, ruin and disruption, should come into power. In the name of all things honorable and just, in the name of untold millions, in the name of saving life and property, give us William McKinley of Ohio.

GREEN RIVER.

The ladies held their second meeting in their new rooms in the church vestry Thursday afternoon last. A goodly number was present and a pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

Dr. Kirkup of New York, who has been spending the summer at Frank Fifes, vainly endeavoring to regain his health, returned to his home Friday.

Quite a number of our young people attended the Grange dances at Guilford Centre Friday night; report as usual, a fine supper, and a good time.

Mrs. Leurissa Putnam of Jacksonville has visited her sister, Mrs. Warren Wilson the past week

A husking was held at A. S. Gallup's Wednesday evening last. There was a large attendance. After performing a short season of labor, and the golden ears of corn were consigned to the crib, they repaired to the house for refreshments, after which all took a part in dancing.

SEARSBURG.

Who will be next President?

Will Foley and help broke the big jam of logs at the island last week.

Mr. Frasier and daughter walked from Bennington last week to visit his daughter Mrs. Orrin Sumner who is slowly improving and able to sit up.

George Bond was at home Saturday. The heavy rains have been unfavorable for the surveyors, but they expect to finish the survey this week.

Our schools are progressing finely.

Union Sunday school meets at 10 for the present.

ELECTION FORECAST

Latest Estimate on the Probable Result by J. H. Manley.

GIVES MAJOR M'KINLEY 307 ELECTORS

Five States in Doubt, Three of Which with Forty Votes, Will Likely Be Found in the Republican Column.

New York, Oct. 30.—There were a good many callers this morning at republican headquarters. Committeeman Joseph H. Manley of Maine has given out the following statement: "After a careful revision of all reports received at headquarters from every state I feel perfectly confident that McKinley and Hobart will carry twenty-seven states and receive 307 electoral votes. There are five states yet in doubt, in which the chances are strongly in favor of McKinley carrying three with forty votes and Bryan two with seven votes." The national republican annex, which is composed of leading Afro-Americans of this and other cities, has issued an address to the colored voters of the country. The address says that the colored voters all over the country, with a few exceptions, propose, as never before, to stand solidly for the St. Louis platform and by the standard-bearers of the republican party, William McKinley and Garret A. Hobart. Senator Quay expects to leave this city for Washington this afternoon and will proceed to his home in Beaver, Pa., where he will vote on election day. He will receive the returns at his residence Tuesday night. Executive committeeman N. B. Scott has returned to his desk at headquarters, after an absence of a few days in Virginia. "We have the votes of old Virginia," he said, "to carry the state beyond doubt, and the only trouble in the old dominion is their methods of preventing the honest expression of the voters at the polls."

GREAT DAYS FOR CANTON.

Visitors Increase in Number as the Campaign Draws Near the Close.

Canton, O., Oct. 30.—Only one delegation is scheduled to visit Major McKinley to-day, the Republican College League clubs, nevertheless the nominee does not expect much rest until after next Monday as many pilgrims arrive without announcing their coming. To-morrow promises to the biggest day of the campaign, and residents are preparing to entertain many thousands of visitors. Major McKinley's residence is already in wire connection with the telegraph lines, but additional wires will be strung to-morrow over which the result of the vote will be announced next Tuesday night. Yesterday the delegations were small but sufficiently numerous. The approach of the election seems at last to have an effect upon the size of the delegations. There was a good deal of variety, too, about the visitors. Four states were represented and one delegation was composed of women who came on stylish brakes and in carriages, bearing armfuls of flowers. The most striking and handsomely uniformed marching organization yet seen here, the C. L. Kurtz club of Columbus, was among Major McKinley's visitors yesterday afternoon. C. L. Kurtz, the chairman of the republican state executive committee, was handsomely complimented by Major McKinley in his speech and the pleasant words he uttered were greeted with storms of cheers. The largest delegation of the day came from Hancock and Seneca counties, O. There were nearly a thousand persons in it and it was organized by H. R. Crouse, editor of the Findlay Republican. The Hancock county callers were presented by H. C. McConnica, in a very happy speech, and those from Seneca county with equal felicity by Dr. A. D. Dickey. Major McKinley was heartily cheered by the delegation. The next delegation was from Columbus and counties in the great coal mining region of Ohio, the Hocking valley. The C. L. Kurtz club of Columbus, with the Seventeenth Regiment band, U. S. A., led the delegations and were warmly applauded all along the line of march. Judge L. D. Haggarty presented the Columbus men and F. S. Purcell of Logan and D. P. C. Taylor of Vinton the visitors from the other counties in the Hocking valley. A delegation from Wakeman, Huron county, Ohio, marched up at the same time and was introduced to Major McKinley by its spokesman. The next callers were a group of flower-laden young women from the Whitman-Barnes company of Akron, Ohio. Major McKinley shook hands with each of the ladies, but made no speech. A delegation from Ashland county, Ohio, were the next callers. They numbered 125 and were presented by T. C. Carey. Major McKinley addressed them briefly. The major's luncheon was interrupted at 3 o'clock by the arrival of the last delegation of the day, an enthusiastic body of 500 voters from Fulton and Williams counties, Ohio, and a number of republicans from northeastern Indiana. J. B. Templeton of Swanton introduced the Ohio visitors, and G. C. Venier of Dekalb county, Ind., spoke for the callers from that state. This delegation was composed of farmers, mechanics, merchants, laboring and professional men. They gave the candidate a rousing reception when he appeared on the porch. Major McKinley spoke briefly of the issues of the campaign, urging the necessity of sound money and a protective tariff, and the maintenance of law and order. At the conclusion of his remarks, Major McKinley shook hands with each of his visitors.

SULTAN IN DANGER

Powers Again Discussing the Question of Deposing Him.

RENEWAL OF MASSACRES FEARED

The Excuse for the Forced Levy To Arm Imperial Troops Looked Upon as an Invitation to Mussulmans To Begin the Murder of Christians.

London, Oct. 30.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Daily News telegraphs that the situation in that city is causing the gravest anxiety in diplomatic circles, which are again discussing the question of the deposition of the sultan. The statement of the porte that no forced levy has been made to procure money with which to buy arms, and that the irade which was construed to be an order for such a levy was merely an appeal to Turkish subjects to voluntarily contribute to a fund that was found necessary to raise for the armament and equipment of the imperial troops is recognized as a thinly veiled invitation to Mussulmans to prepare to attack Christians. This cannot fail to bring about massacres in the provinces, even if the vigilance of the guardships is able to prevent the killing of Christians in Constantinople. The correspondent adds that after a meeting held on Monday the diplomats telegraphed to their respective governments asking for instructions with a view to imminent happenings. The Sheik-ul-Islam, the head of the Mohammedan faith, through whom alone can the sultan be legally deposed, remains at the Yildiz Kiosk, the sultan's residence, nominally as a guest of his majesty, but really as a prisoner.

SIX MINERS PERISH.

Result of the Mine Explosion Near Wilkesbarre.

Wilkesbarre, Oct. 30.—By yesterday afternoon's gas explosion in No. 3 shaft of the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal company six men were killed and two injured. The dead are: Wm. R. Jones, fire boss (had been in the employ of the company for the past twenty-five years; (John W. Josephs (had been assistant mine foreman for the past twelve years); Thomas Owens, Wm. Lacey, contractor; James Herring and Joseph Worth. When the explosion occurred Wm. Lacey was at work in a rock tunnel about a mile from the foot of the shaft with thirteen men. Immediately after the explosion a rescuing gang was organized by fire boss Wm. R. Jones and assistant foreman John W. Josephs. The men proceeded down the shaft, Jones and Josephs being far in advance. When about one mile from the foot of the shaft they stumbled over the bodies of Contractor Lacey, Owens, Herring and Worth. At this point Jones and Josephs were overcome by black damp and fell dead in their tracks. The other rescuers were forced to beat a hasty retreat bringing the bodies of Jones and Josephs with them. A few hours later the air current was partly restored and the men were able to push their way into the tunnel and at 8:30 last night signalled that they had recovered the bodies of the four rock miners. The rescuers with the bodies were brought to the surface shortly afterwards. There are several theories as to the cause of the explosion. The most plausible is that the gas was ignited by a blast. The roof of the fan house was blown off and the building otherwise damaged. The shock from the explosion shook the earth for miles around. The mine is on fire and will cause the company much trouble and expense before the flames can be subdued. In past years this colliery has been the scene of several bad explosions. The most disastrous occurred on Sunday, March 9, 1890, by which eight miners were burned to death in a most horrible manner, and two years ago some of the members of the New York coal exchange had a narrow escape. A party of ten were on the carriage and had been lowered a short distance into the shaft when an explosion took place near the foot. The carriage was quickly hoisted out of the shaft just in time to save the lives of the New Yorkers.

Interstate Bowling Matches.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 30.—The Brooklyn Bowling club of the Inter-State Bowling league has decided to send a team through the west again this winter, owing to the interest created by their visit to the different cities last year. The team will leave New York January 26, 1897.

County Clerk Appointed.

Albany, Oct. 30.—Gov. Morton has appointed ex-senator Jacob Worth of Brooklyn, the republican political leader of Kings county, to be county clerk of Kings county in the vacancy created by the death of Henry C. Saffon, for the period ending December 31, 1896.

St. Johns Bank Scandal.

St. Johns, N. F., Oct. 30.—The liquidators of the defunct banks are about to bring suit against the directors for the recovery of sums of money due the banks. The criminal prosecutions in connection with the bank scandals will also be resumed next month.

Gold from Siberia.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 30.—A caravan from Tomsk, West Siberia, has arrived here bringing bars of gold weighing 200 poods (7,200 pounds). Another caravan is expected in January. These consignments are independent of those from Irkutsk, Eastern Siberia.

RETURNS AT LINCOLN

Mr. Bryan Will Receive Election News at His Home.

A BIG PARTY OF FRIENDS INVITED

Refreshments Will Be Served During the Course of the Night---Journeys of the Democratic Nominee---St. John Tells an Interesting Story.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 30.—Preparations for the reception of election news at the residence of nominee Bryan in this city are being pushed forward rapidly. It was only last evening that Mr. Bryan consented to permit the wires to enter his house. Both the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies will have bulletin wires in Mr. Bryan's library and in addition to this a special wire direct from the office of Chairman Jones in Chicago is talked of. A large party of friends have been invited to the residence on the night of the election, and refreshments will be served during the course of the night. Mr. Bryan will not reach home in time to register, and his vote must be sworn in.

BRYAN IN WISCONSIN.

Bids Adieu to Chicago and Starts on the Closing Tour of His Campaign.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—A campaign sprint to a number of towns in northern Illinois and back again to Chicago, a dozen speeches in the outlying districts and nine more in the city proper completed Mr. Bryan's labors for yesterday, and when he said good-by to his last Chicago audience late last night he hurried to the Northwestern station and was off again on another flying trip, this time through Wisconsin. Threatening clouds hung over Chicago yesterday when Mr. Bryan, accompanied by Mrs. Bryan and a number of local supporters, started out on his visit to neighboring communities. He ran into a rainstorm before he had gone very far, but the downpour ceased during the afternoon. Great masses of threatening clouds hung over the country through which he passed for the rest of the journey. They did not break, however, and altogether the cannon ball campaign he made was not seriously interfered with by the weather. Elgin heard the candidate first, and then, in turn, Belvidere, Rockford, Freeport, Forreston, Polo, Dixon, Rochelle, De Kalb, Geneva, Wheaton and Maywood. All the crowds cheered him, some with wild heartiness, while the enthusiasm of a few audiences was tempered by shouts for the republican standard bearer and display of yellow ribbons bearing Major McKinley's name. Nearly all the stops were brief and a speech was made at each, with the exception of Freeport, where two addresses were crowded into a half hour. It was after 7 o'clock before he got back to Chicago. The distance covered in the flying trip was 285 miles. Mr. Bryan had scarce time to eat a hasty dinner at the Auditorium annex before he was in a carriage being whirled away to the north side.

SAYS IT'S PROVIDENTIAL.

Mr. St. John Speaks of the Democratic Campaign and Relates a Story.

New York, Oct. 30.—As the close of the campaign approaches work at democratic headquarters increases and every effort is being put forward to bring about victory for Mr. Bryan. Mr. St. John arrived early at headquarters to-day. He appeared to be in jubilant spirits and said that as election day approached his confidence in Bryan's triumph increased. "This present movement is a unique one, and there is no precedent on which to base predictions. From the very start I saw it was a providential movement and that the people were behind it," said Mr. St. John. At this juncture he became reminiscent and started in to tell an interesting story. "Why," said he, "the night before Mr. Bryan made his speech before the convention he was in my room in a Chicago hotel. A United States senator was also present. We were discussing matters and Mr. Bryan said he could not see how any of the men mentioned could be nominated. I told him then that Providence would take care of us and that the nomination would come like lightning from a clear sky." Mr. St. John paused a moment and then said solemnly: "And Providence did take care of us, and the nomination did come like lightning from a clear sky, for Bryan was as good as nominated the next night." Mr. St. John would not give the name of the senator who was listening to this historical incident. Mr. St. John says he is of the opinion that Bryan will carry New York state and that he will be swept into the presidential chair by a landslide of popular opinion.

Rev. H. H. Hayden Goes Free.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 30.—The state attorney has nolled the case against Rev. H. H. Hayden, which has been on the superior court docket since 1879. The clergyman was charged with the murder of Mary Stannard of Guilford, and the trial attracted the attention of the whole country at the time.

Rum Smuggler Accidentally Killed.

Lewiston, Me., Oct. 30. — George Grenier, aged 17, who was found in a dying condition in a stable loft yesterday and died on the way to the hospital, is now supposed to have been thrown from a rum smuggler's team frightened by a shifter in the Maine Central yard in the night.

WORKINGMEN FOR McKINLEY.

Not Enough Republican Speakers to Supply the Demand. News of the Theatres. Tribune's Departure in Sunday Journalism.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28, 1896.

EDITOR TRANSCRIPT:—

Although the Democrats are willing to concede New York to the Republicans at the coming election, the campaign is being enthusiastically prosecuted by the sound money leaders. On the east and west side there are meetings every night among the workingmen, and the Republican county committee is complaining that it has not a sufficient number of speakers to comply with the constantly increasing demand. Until next Thursday all meetings were supplied, but the calls for the two succeeding nights will overtax the resources of the committee.

And the battle is to be waged and decided by the laborers. Machinists and other skilled workmen report that the sentiment in their trades is overwhelming in favor of McKinley. Among the laborers there seems to be a gross ignorance of the real issue of the campaign that months of education could hardly eradicate. One man, in former years a Republican, gave me as reasons for voting for Bryan that men with a "pull" obtained positions in the New York city park department, that there was untold wealth in this country locked up in banks, which should be employed in giving the people work, and that as a final and not-to-be-refuted point, the Lord had ordained that such metals as He had deposited in the bowels of the earth should be used as money; and since He had placed silver in this country, by the divine law silver money is to be the currency of the land.

To such an one the only reply was: "You had plenty of work when Hayes, Arthur and Harrison were presidents." He admitted he had. "You have been nearly starving for three years" "Yes." "Well, if you like starving so well, vote for Bryan and starve." And he went off to consider the proposition.

Among business men confidence is everywhere returning. The sharp rise in the price of wheat, accompanied as it is by the further decline in the value of bar silver, is thought to be a clinching factor in the struggle in the grain raising states, and consequently trade has been brighter in all parts of the city for the past week, though no new undertakings are being put forward, for the universal cry of "Wait till after election" is a most effective dampener to the ardor of the most visionary promoter.

Theatrical.

At the Lyceum Sothern is meeting with his customary brilliant success in "An Enemy of the King." The scene of the play is a province of France in the year 1535, and no greater praise can be given it than to say it equals Stanley Weyman's stories of the same period in interest, and at the same time the book is enlivened with even more than usual of the wit and humor so associated with Sothern in the experience of the past. Mr. Sothern, facile princeps in his company, is surrounded with actors who play their parts with such ease and smoothness that the spectator is never rudely brought with a shock to the realization that he is in the fin de siecle of the nineteenth century and not in the exciting, adventurous time when Henry III, Henry of Guise and Henry of Navarre were contending for the mastery of France.

Virginia Harned, whose great success was "Trilby," has been with Sothern as leading lady, by the courtesy of Mr. Palmer, with whom she is under contract for the approaching season. Next week she will be succeeded by Mary Hampton, who, it is understood, will continue in the position throughout the theatrical year.

Journalistic.

The staid and dignified readers of the somewhat less staid and dignified Tribune have been thrown into a commotion by the announcement that that journal was to publish hereafter with its Sunday edition a serio-comic supplement containing a profusion of political cartoons, half-tone engravings, pen and ink drawings, etc. Apparently undaunted by the fate of the Recorder, the publishers of the Tribune are preparing to deluge its unoffending readers with a flow of sensations in the pattern of the new "one cent journalism." Its readers vent their indignation and surprise in the columns of the Sun and the Post; and every one agrees in remarking on the magnitude of the fall from the position of an "American Thunderer," which it maintained under Greeley, into the ranks of the penny dreadfuls. Prayers are still offered by the faithful that something may avert this calamity.

H. J.

Board of Trade.

As has before been announced, the board of trade will discuss the subject of biennial elections at its meeting this evening. Ex-Representative C. T. Phelps will make a short address, after which the discussion will be thrown open to all present. The question is one on which the people of the state are to vote next Tuesday, and voters will find the meeting one of interest and profit.

Rev. Dr. Crawford.

Died, October 28, at the residence of his son-in-law, Rev. Thomas A. Emerson, Clinton, Conn., Rev Robert Crawford, D. D., pastor emeritus of the Congregational church at Deerfield, Mass., aged 91 years and 11 months. Dr. Crawford was pastor of the Congregational church in this city fifteen years, from 1840 to 1855, and is very pleasantly remembered by the older people here.

Whose strength and reputation are already favorably known in this section announces the transfer of its Agency to the hands of

No. 4, Adams National Bank Bld'g, who has become its duly accredited agent. Proposals for new insurance and renewals of its expiring policies are solicited.

THE BIG PARADE.

Will be Planned Friday Evening. New Line of March Probable.

The captains of the several marching clubs are requested to meet at the Republican headquarters Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Major Hough and his staff, together with the captains, will arrange for Saturday evening's demonstrations.

When the big parade was first considered it was thought that several towns would be represented in the procession, but it is not probable that the first plans will be carried out. The Adams club will have their parade Saturday evening, the Hoosick Fall, N. Y., campaign club marched Thursday evening and the Pittsfield battalions tired themselves out Wednesday night, so it looks now as if North Adams would be obliged to celebrate unassisted. Invitations have been sent to outside clubs, but there is not much chance of their coming.

Another matter to be considered is the line of march. The residents in the north end of the city are complaining because no attention has been given them and it is probable that the parade Saturday evening will include some streets which have not been visited during this campaign. The march will be much longer than any preceding ones and the companies have been preparing some new and spicy transparencies.

BUSINESS LOOKING UP.

A Shoe Man Finds Much Encouragement in Present Conditions.

One of the shoe manufacturers of this city says that business in the shoe line, as well as in many others, is evidently on the verge of a big jump. One thing that is holding shoes a little in check just at present is the high price of hides, which are up to eight cents a pound. This affects the price of leather, or soon will do so to such an extent that the price of shoes will have to be advanced. The manufacturer says that buyers from all parts of the country are in Boston buying all the shoes they can at the old prices, and that if he could take business at those prices he could book orders enough in a week to keep his factory busy for six months.

All this is very encouraging, as it adds one more to the many evidences that business, which has been so dull for a long time, is only waiting for the word "go," which will be given by the American people next Tuesday.

GLEN MILL SITE.

Five Thousand Dollars Considered a Reasonable Amount by Good Judges.

The question of purchasing the new Beaver school site will be practically settled tonight at a meeting of the school board. The Glen mill lot is wedge shape, having a frontage of about 250 feet and a depth at one end of over 100 feet.

The school board took three citizens, not members of the board, to the Beaver early this week for the purpose of getting their opinion of the value of the land. The price which is agreed would be a fair one is $5000 and the figure is considered very reasonable by persons who ought to be good judges of such matters.

Brotherhood Report.

At this evening's service at St. John's parish house William M. Burch will make a report of the recent convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, held at Pittsburg, which he attended as a delegate from the local chapter. Young men especially are invited.

WOODFORD.

John Bugbee, who had been a resident of Woodford for sixty years, quietly passed away Sunday evening after a lingering illness. A few minutes before his death Mr. Bugbee was jovial and thought he was much better. For several years he had been afflicted with rheumatism and kindred infirmities; these went to the heart and caused almost instant death. There was no evidence of pain at the last. Mr. Bugbee had been one of the foremost men of the town for many years, and his loss will be deeply felt. He leaves a widow who has been truly devoted to her husband and his interests during their long life. Mr. Bugbee's age was seventy-six years.

Last week Tuesday night, Ida, the young and beloved wife of Adelbert Temple, died. She was an accomplished woman and a Christian. The Rev. C. R. Seymour officiated at the funeral which was very largely attended.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wood have visited at Henry Thrasher's in North Adams.

Hiram Weld picked the last cucumber in his garden a week ago. It was twelve inches long and eight and one-half inches in circumference, and fresh as one picked in August. While holding a large beet in his hand the vegetable cracked open with a loud noise and stunned Mr. Weld. Evidently that beet grew too fast.

EUROPEAN PLAN.

In a modest and unobtrusive way there are few better conducted hotels in the metropolis than the St. Denis.

The great popularity it has acquired gradually he traced to its unique location, its home-like atmosphere, the peculiar excellence of its cuisine, and its very moderate prices.
